

Dante 2012 Pinot Grigio

Our Pinot Grigio has a brilliant light flint color which admittedly looks as refreshing as the wine itself. The aromas are crisp with snappy lemon based acidity but with nice minerality. The palate has tons of minerality as well such as sea salt and calcium, meyer lemon notes, but ultimately subtle with light jasmine and tea leaf notes.

We like the expression: "this wine is wet". It's just a refreshing and satisfying temperature moderator. This wine is a super refreshing aperitif or starter to a summer time meal or a fantastic accompaniment to shellfish—especially oysters on the half shell with lemon, fresh horseradish and a champagne mignonette, tomato, fennel or fresh beet salads with goat cheese is a natural pairing. Sans food, a hot day and a need for a light thirst quencher is all that is needed.

This wine was stainless steel fermented and intended for current consumption.
