

Michael Pozzan
2009 Russian River Chardonnay

100% Chardonnay
100% Russian River
Aged 6 months in French Oak

This is a generous Chardonnay from one of the finest locations in California to grow Chardonnay; the Russian River. The color is slightly golden with a steely blue streak. The initial aromatics identify a rich Chardonnay with ripe Carmel coated apples and a buttery composition. Indeed on the palate this wine is super rich; replete with layers of sweet French oak and layers of complex tropical fruit intermingled with layers of butter and butterscotch. The fruit composition spans from tropical mango and passion fruit to spices from jasmine to clove. This wine is really best as an aperitif or cocktail wine due to its richness and complexity. However, it would do well with a goat cheese tart with a fresh sun dried tomato paste and would do well with a Thai curry like Emerald green curry with Japanese eggplant. Drink now through 2013. 5,200 cases produced.
