

Michael Pozzan
2010 Sonoma County Cabernet Sauvignon

60% Alexander Valley, 40% Dry Creek Valley

This is a serious Cabernet Sauvignon with a dark plum color. The palate is rich with mocha and cassis, backed with ripe cherry. It is a super extracted wine featuring huckleberry concentrate, brown sugar with roasted coffee and hazelnut notes. There is an underlying sweet oak flavor from extensive barrel aging (24 months) and the wine finishes with a long, supple, sappy French oak finish.

This wine is a must with a mushroom crusted, seared filet mignon and a plum truffle sauce, served with English peas and saffron infused maui gold mashed potatoes.

This wine drinks well now, but will mature well with further cellaring through 2025 and perhaps beyond.
